By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Wilson is "hammering ahead" and has made "good progress" in his negotiations in Paris, according to advices received today at the White House.

KAISER MAY BE TRIED*BY BELGIAN TRIBUNAL

PARIS, April 10.—The responsibility of the German emperor for the war and the means for bringing him to trial by one of the allied governments, probably Belgium, have been definitely determined upon by the council of four. This follows the definite decision on the terms of reparations for war damages, whereby $5,000,000,000 must be paid within the next two years and an inter-allied commission assess the remaining damage for a period of 30 years, beginning May 1, 1921.

Thus two of the great obstacles which stood in the path of the rapid attainment of peace have been removed within the last 24 hours, and the period of extreme tension over the inaction and the failure to secure tangible results is succeeded by revived confidence over the great advance made toward a permanent settlement.

How far these results are due to the intimations conveyed by the summoning to France of the United States transport George Washington by President Wilson is only conjectural, but it is at least a coincidence that the main difficulties began to dissolve from the time that this decision became known.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS IN CONTROL AT ESSEN

BERLIN, Wednesday, April 9.—Government troops are reported to have entered Essen and to have occupied the Krupp plant which, according to previous reports, had been seized by the Essen strikers. The troops posted artillery and machine guns at the entrance to the plant. The result of the intervention by the government forces, the advices state, was that two-thirds of the workmen resumed their labors.

RELATIONS REPORTED BETWEEN BAVARIA AND RUSSIA

BERLIN, Wednesday, April 9.—Diplomatic relations have been reported to have improved between the Russian and Bavarian soviet governments, according to the two-fifteenth.

As late as April 8 the Russian soviet government has not got into touch with the Bavarian authorities, according to a wireless message of that date from Nicola Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik premier, who sent the message to Bela Kun, the Hungarian revolutionary leader, asking him to send details of the revolution in Bavaria. "We have only the barest announcement," Lenin's message said.

LORD CURZON SEES WAR CLOUDS ON THE HORIZON

LONDON, April 10.—Defending the military bill in the House of Lords today, Earl Curzon, of Kedleston, President of the House and government leader in the House of Lords, said:

"I see clouds on the horizon which may burst at any moment in a more sinister form than anything yet seen."

JAMES LAFORTE, ADELAIDE, DISCHARGED FROM SERVICE.

James LaPorte, son of Mr. and Mrs. John LaPorte of Adelaide, arrived home this morning after having been honorably discharged from military service. LaPorte recently arrived in the States from over seas, where he was with the tank corps.

SEARGENT MAJOR PERCY OUT OF THE SERVICE.

Sergeant Major Harry Percy, who has been stationed at Camp Anadol, N. J., was honorably discharged from the service at Camp Dix, N. J., arriving home last night.

SEARGENT HUGES BOWMAN RETURNS.

Sergeant Huges J. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bowman of East Cedar avenue, arrived home this morning from Camp Holabird, Md., having been honorably discharged from the service. Sergeant Bowman was with the Motor Transport corps.

De Angelis Grows Weaker.

A. De Angelis, local insurance agent, who is in the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, is gradually growing weaker. His brother, R. De Angelis, and P. Bufano, visited him at the hospital on alternate days. Today Mr. Bufano is with him.

Child Dies.

Emory Bush, three years old, died yesterday at the family residence at 401 Lainsburg. The interment was made today in St. Emery's cemetery.

A REVISION OF THE PRIMARY BALLOT LAW
PROPOSED BY SEN. CROW

Relates Only to the Judiciary and Second Class Cities; Non-Partisan Features Retained.

HARRISBURG, April 10.—Senator W. E. Crow introduced a bill yesterday making important revisions in the non-partisan ballot law insofar as it relates to the judiciary and second-class cities.

The non-partisan provision of the existing law is retained by providing a separate non-partisan ballot, which shall be so indicated on the back thereof, and for publication of the non-partisan ballot as a part of the party ballots, though it will not be indicated on the party ballots that they also contain the non-partisan ballots.

As the law now stands a section or column of each party ballot is reserved for the non-partisan ballot, on which in alphabetical order are printed the names of all candidates for municipal offices and the judiciary and a mark in the party square of the party ballot does not indicate a vote for a single candidate on the non-partisan ticket.

Under the Crow bill the arrangement of names for offices on the non-partisan ballot for municipal offices is not changed, but for the judiciary it is provided that following the alphabetical arrangement of the names at the primary, they shall be arranged for the November election in the order in which they emerge from the primary, the candidate receiving the highest vote coming first and the other candidates shall follow in descending numerical order according to the votes cast for each. It is provided that in case of a tie between any two candidates the old alphabetical arrangement shall prevail.

The section of the existing law making the candidate for the judiciary who receives 51 per cent or more of the votes cast at the primary the sole candidate to be voted for at the November election is changed so that when nominations to fill two or more vacancies, if one or more candidates receive more than one-half of the votes cast, each of such candidates shall be the sole nominee for one of the vacancies. If less than the whole number of candidates have received the required number of votes, he or they who have received the required number shall be the sole nominees. If more than the whole number to be elected receive the required number of votes at the primary, the candidates equal to the number of vacancies who have received the highest number of votes shall be the sole nominees.

SERGEANT FRETTS KILLED IN ACTION.
OFFICIAL REPORT

Name Carried in Casualty List for Today; Had Been Reported Dead but Succumbed from Wounds.

Sergeant Charles A. Fretts, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Fretts of East Crawford avenue, was killed in action, according to today's casualty list submitted by the commanding officer of the American Expeditionary Forces. Sergeant Fretts was previously reported slightly wounded by the War Department but further from that his parents had received no official word from Washington. However, a letter written by Eugene William Fretts to his mother contained the information that his brother had died, but did not state he was killed in action.

Others included in the list are:
Died from accident and other causes—Private James W. Jack (Mrs. Christina Jack), Jeannette.
Died (previously reported missing in action)—Private Oscar R. Gabagen (Mrs. Abi Gabagen), Windsor.
Wounded slightly—Cook Richard E. Carson (Mrs. Y. E. Carson), Washington; Private Paul Bricker Evans (Mrs. Anna Mary Evans), Greensburg; Private Luigi Vitaro (Frank Vitaro), Blythesdale; Private Anthony B. Maritano (Miss Caroline Maritano), Brownsville.

Died of disease—Private Emanuel Berkhele (Calvin Berkhele), Hooversville.

HAGERSTOWN SCORCHED

Rickard Building Is Destroyed With a
Loss of $170,000.

Hagerstown, Md., April 10.—Fire today destroyed the P. L. Rickard building, a large three-story brick structure here, occupied by the Hagerstown Cap company, manufacturers of bone caps and the Hupp Manufacturing company, makers of baskets and machine parts.

The total loss was estimated at $170,000 of which the two concerns suffered to the extent of $75,000 each, the loss on the building being placed at $20,000, all fully insured.

Road Change Proposed.

Senator John H. Miller of Somerset county with Simon H. Sell and A. G. Fowler of Brills creek new State Highway Commissioner, Sadler at Harrisburg yesterday relative to a relocation of route No. 48, which connects Bedford with Maryland state line. Fowler and Sell suggested that the original route be relocated from a point near Patience to the Maryland line and declared that such a change would benefit a very large population as well as eliminate a number of bad hills.

PLAYING WITH GUN, CHILD SHOTS AND KILLS HIS BROTHER

Distressing Accident Occurs in Upper Room at Home at Nellie Mines.

REVOLVER IS SECRETED

Little Donald Hall, Six Years Old, Son of Elmer Hall, Rainey Farm Boss,
Finds Weapon and Bullet Pierces
Chest of Robert, Four Years Old.

Little Robert Hall, the four-year-old son of Elmer Hall, farm boss at the Rainey farm at Nellie mines, near Vanderbilt, was shot and killed about 8:30 o'clock last evening by his brother, Donald, six years old, while he was playing with a revolver belonging to his father.

The two boys, who were alone in the house at the time, were in an upper part of the house at play. The father had a .25 calibre revolver in his drawer which was always kept loaded. Donald in some manner got it and shot his brother in the back, the bullet entering his body directly below the shoulder blade and coming out under his chin, passing through his wind pipe.

Upon hearing the shot, the housekeeper rushed into the house and up to the room. The child spoke two or three words and died almost instantly.

Besides his father, Elmer Hall, the child is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Earl, Donald, Ruby and Julia. The mother is dead.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Dickerson Run Union cemetery.

EXECUTION DATE SET

Franklin Moon, Drakentown, to Die in Electric Chair Week of May 5.

Governor William C. Spruiell has set the week beginning May 5 as the time of the execution of Franklin Moon, convicted of first degree murder for the killing of Ernest Saylor, son of former Sheriff James B. Saylor of Somerset.

Saylor, who was 24 years old, was hanged at a mine at Drakentown, Moon, who was employed at the mine, undertook to foment strife among the workmen. He was discharged. The next morning he went to the mine and was ordered off the premises by Superintendent Saylor. Moon returned to his boarding house, secured a gun and again went to the mine, where he shot the young superintendent. Moon was born in the vicinity of Confluence and lived there practically all his life.

SUNDAY ANGLERS FINED

Dunbar Youth's Arrested $25 and Costs by Negligence.

Joseph Eyles, Benjamin Fleide, Joseph Rodgers and Joe Rockwell, Dunbar youths, were rounded up last Sunday by Game Wardens Rockwell and Hart, charged with fishing in the Dunbar creek.

Informations charging the young men with violating the game laws of the state prohibiting fishing on Sunday were made by game wardens Rockwell and each of the offenders were fined $25 and costs.

Mollison-Kerr.

Miss Margaret H. Mollison and Dr. Norwin L. Kerr, a well-known couple of Scotland, were married yesterday at noon in the home of Dr. Kerr's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Peabody in Highland avenue, Pittsburgh. Rev. C. L. E. Cartwright of the Mary S. Brown Memorial Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, and a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Scotland, officiated. Only immediate relatives of the two parties were present. Following a service a pretty appointed wedding breakfast, at which covers for twelve were laid, was served. The table was decorated with spring flowers in Dresden china. American beauty roses completed the decorations in the home. The bride wore her traveling costume of dark blue cloth, with hat to match. Mrs. Kerr is a daughter of the late State Mine Inspector and Mrs. W. J. Mollison, and has a wide circle of friends in Scotland. The bridegroom is one of Scotland's leading young physicians. Following a wedding trip to New York and other eastern points, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will be at home in Pittsburgh street, Scotland. Out of town guests at the wedding were Thomas Mollison and Miss Mary Mollison, a brother and sister of the bride, and Miss Louise Kerr, a sister of the bridegroom, all of Scotland.

Overland Car Is Stolen.

An automobile belonging to Stanley Comiskey of Trotter was stolen from East Apple street last night about 9:45 o'clock. The machine was an Overland bearing the license No. 180577. The case was reported to the police.

Over Here on Furlough.

James Ober, formerly employed at the Connellsville garage but now with the Army at New News, is home on 10-day furlough.

CLASS OF 40 IS EXPECTED AT FIRE
TESTS TOMORROW

Final Examinations for Mine Foremen
Are Being Held in Parochial Hall Today.

The last of the mine foremen examinations being given to 29 candidates at the parochial school hall were being finished up today, the final results of questions being submitted this afternoon. Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the candidates for fire boss certificates will report for the tests. The fire boss examinations last for one day only.

Mine Inspector P. J. Walsh this morning stated that there would be between 36 and 40 candidates for the fire boss certificates.

The same examination board will conduct the tests tomorrow. On the board in addition to Mr. Walsh there are James Conway, who represents the miners, and John W. Greaves, superintendent of the American Management company at Dunbar, who represents the operators.

The questions answered by the candidates at yesterday afternoon's examinations follow:

The workings of a portion of a mine are approaching an abandoned mine known to contain a dangerous accumulation of water, within what distance from the abandoned mine must special precautions be taken for the removal of the water? What are the precautions according to law?

The total ventilating pressure in a mine, the sectional area of which is 48 square feet, is 37.44 pounds; what is the reading of the water gauge?

What generally are the causes of blow-out shots and how would you endeavor to prevent their occurrence? In what does discipline consist? How would you determine if discipline is imperfect in a mine?

From what source is the greatest number of accidents at the working face, and how would you endeavor to lessen or prevent them?

What are the legal qualifications and duties of a workman who operates a coal cutting machine?

The questions given the candidates at this morning's tests were:

Why, in mines worked exclusively with locked safety lamps, are explosions less frequent than in mines worked by open lights? State fully.

In driving entries where gas is given off in quantity, what precautions would you adopt to insure safety to the workmen, and how would you prevent accumulation of gas at the face?

When is a mine efficiently ventilated?

What steps would you take to reopen a mine or portion of a mine that had been closed or sealed off to extinguish a fire?

What are the legal provisions for safety on electric locomotive roads in general?

The volume of air passing through a mine is 150,000 cubic feet per minute. A test of the return air shows 35 per cent of methan, what amount of gas is given off in 24 hours, assuming conditions to remain unchanged?

In selecting an explosive for blasting purposes in a mine, what are the chief considerations?

The Grim Reaper

MRS. JAMES MCCORMICK.

One of the largest funerals held at the home of Mrs. James McCormick held yesterday morning from the Holy Family Catholic church in Greensburg, requiem high mass being celebrated at 9 o'clock by Monsignor Kittell. The floral tributes were numerous and unusually handsome. Mrs. McCormick was a very charitable woman and was loved by all who knew her. The list of town persons at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Fisher, Charles Hubert and Miss Mrs. Fisher, August Schell, Mr. and Mrs. James Schell, all of South Connellsville; Mrs. John Smith, Morrell; Mrs. Julia Shoenberger, Wattersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, Mrs. Annie McCormick and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Rieck, Matthew Campbell and son, George, and daughter, Miss Nellie, and W. W. Cunningham, all of Connellsville; Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCormick and two children, Marie and Thomas, of Clarkburg; Mr. and Mrs. James McMan and children, Helen and Jimmie, of Clarkburg, and Thomas McCormick, Jr., Uniontown.

MRS. VIRGINIA CREEL.

The body of Mrs. Virginia Creel, who died at Washington, Pa., arrived here yesterday morning and was removed by Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell to the First Methodist Episcopal church where funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. G. L. C. Richardson, the pastor, officiated.

CONNELLVILLE
BEHIND IN WAR
CHEST PAYMENTS

Statement Today Shows 1,724
Who Have Not Paid
Cent on Pledges.

MAY HAVE A COLLECTOR

Suggestion Has Been Made That One
Be Put to Work in Local District;
Uniontown and Brownsville Make Better Showing; Coke Works do Well.

Connellsville is lagging behind the other large communities in the country in the payment of its pledges toward the War Chest fund, according to a statement today from Uniontown. In the Connellsville district there are 786 persons who have made partial payment but are delinquent in the remainder and 1,724 who have not paid at all.

As compared with the record here, it is stated, Uniontown has but 322 who owe in part, and 879 who have paid nothing while Brownsville has 198 paying partially and 177 not at all. Returns from the coke towns show money coming in regularly.

It has been suggested that a collector be put to work in Connellsville.

LOOKING FOR RECTOR

Episcopal Church Having Difficulty
Owing to Shogage of Ministers.

An effort is being made to secure a rector for the Trinity Episcopal church here to succeed Rev. M. S. Kanaga, who resigned to accept the pastorate of a Pittsburgh church. Rev. Donald Kent Johnson, the new rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Uniontown, has been in this city yesterday and stated that he had several rectors to take charge of the church here in view but as yet did not know if any of them would accept the call.

Owing to the large number of Episcopal rectors serving as chaplains in the army, it has been a difficult matter to fill vacant pulpits of the churches. The rector who accepts the Connellsville church will also have charge of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church at Secedale. Rev. Johnson will preach in the local church on Easter night, Sunday, April 20, at 7:30 o'clock, and will also administer holy communion.

SECOND OPERATION

Is Successfully Withstood by Corporal
J. W. Easton of Co. D, 110th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Easton of Trevort street received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing that their son, Corporal Joseph D. Easton, had successfully undergone a second operation at Park View hospital near Pittsburgh.

Corporal Easton, who was a member of Company D, 110th Infantry, was wounded in the foot in action and was returned to the States some months ago. An operation was performed shortly after his arrival following which he was transferred to Park View, having visited his home while enroute to the hospital. Conditions developed necessitating a second operation which was performed yesterday forenoon.

EXHIBIT TOMORROW

One Will Be Put on This Afternoon for Students' Benefit.

The high school gym exhibit by the boy and girl students will be put on tomorrow night for the benefit of the parents of the members of the gym classes. An elaborate program has been arranged and some interesting features worked up. Among the best numbers on the program are the pyramids by the boys. There are 10 figures, 32 persons participating in each of them. A combination drill by the boys and girls will also be a good number. This afternoon at 8 o'clock an exhibition for high school students will be given, as the seating capacity of the gym is too small to accommodate a large crowd tomorrow.

Mrs. John W. Mason Dies.

Mrs. John W. Mason of Fairmount, widow of Judge John W. Mason, died this morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. R. W. Dawson, at Uniontown. Death was due to influenza. Mrs. Mason was 76 years old and is survived by a son, Captain John W. Mason, Jr., who is in government service in California.

96 in the Sun.

The official weather report for yesterday was 96 degrees. This figure was registered on the West Penn thermometer where all readings are taken. The thermometer, however, was hanging in the sun, this causing the mercury to run high.

Boy Scouts to Drill.

The Boy Scouts of all the city troops will assemble at Washington avenue and Isabelle road tonight at 8:15 o'clock for a drill, after which scout games will be played.

To Give Foremen Compensation.

A bill was introduced in the House yesterday to include volunteer firemen under the terms of the state compensation laws.

ROOF GARDEN AMONG IMPROVEMENTS ELKS
PLAN AT THEIR HOME

Covered Balcony for Band Concerts
Also in Prospect; Other Changes
Are Under Way.

Extensive improvements are being made at the home of the Connellsville Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, in East Crawford avenue. Carpenters are at work remodeling the downstairs, where a big dining room is to be opened. It is also understood bids are out for the construction of a roof garden. Later the balcony or porch which extends out over the sidewalk may be canopied and band concerts given there in the evenings.

The improvements being made at present pertain only to the dining room. Two rooms on the first floor are being made into one. This room will open off the hall leading in from the entrance. After its completion the committee is figuring on having meals served there, making it possible for an Elk to drop into the home for a hasty lunch.

The room will be cooled with four big electric fans. Bids for 12 of these fans will be asked soon, the remaining eight to be installed in the dance hall. The roof garden, it is said, will be located on the roof of the addition to the home. At the time of the building of this addition provision was made for a roof garden if it were ever decided to have one. A roof garden would be a new feature in this city, nothing of the kind ever having been attempted here before.

Another improvement which would be popular would be to place a canopy over the balcony in the front where band concerts could be given.

STATE TREASURER*KEPHART'S NAME FORGED BY CLERK

One of the Grate Charges Against the Former Resident Clerk of House of Representatives.

HARRISBURG, April 10.—Although the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of William S. Lieb of Pottsville, former resident clerk of the House, resulted from information made by the House on another charge of forgery, by which Lieb, an alleged possession of $3,094.14 of taxes due the state which he failed to turn over, Lieb is said to have also forged the name of State Treasurer H. M. Kephart for $5,000. It also said that he committed other forgeries aggregating $17,000.

The method by which Lieb operated, as charged in the information upon which the warrant was issued, was to forge receipts for state taxes purported to be signed by the accounting officers of the state.

Lieb had agreed to meet Deputy Attorney General Swoope in a Philadelphia alderman's office yesterday but did not show up. Indications of his financial transactions last January prevented Lieb's reelection as resident clerk, for which office he was scheduled at the organization of the Legislature.

PHALIN ASKS $15,000

Uniontown Butcher Defendant in South Connellsville Man's Suit.

Fifteen thousand dollars damages for personal injuries is asked from Philip Olander, a butcher, by Thomas C. Phalin, of South Connellsville, in a suit filed yesterday in Uniontown. The affidavit of particulars sets forth that on December 31, the plaintiff was run down at the corner of Court and Main streets, Uniontown, by the defendant's automobile, operated by Charles Dyson, an employee, and that he was dragged a considerable distance before the machine was stopped. He alleges that no warning horn was blown.

As a result of the negligence of the driver, Phalin claims he sustained injuries to his head, arms, body and legs, a broken collar bone, fractured ribs, strained ligaments of the arms and an injury to the spinal column.

O'LAUGHLIN PROMOTED

Car Shops Foreman at Dickerson Run
Now Goes to McKees Rocks.

M. J. O'Laughlin, who has been foreman of the car shops at Dickerson Run since February, 1918, has been promoted to the foremanship at the McKees Rocks car shops. Mr. O'Laughlin takes his new position on April 14.

Succeeding Mr. O'Laughlin is P. H. Stank, formerly general superintendent of the Mount Airy railroad at Coraopolis. Mr. O'Laughlin will be given a reception by shop employees before he leaves.

ABOUT MAY 1

Is Time the 28th Division Is Expected to Sail for Home.

According to letters now arriving in this country from members of the 28th Division the time of sailing for home is fixed at "about May 1."

A Monument for Bushy Run.

Senator Weaver of Westmoreland county introduced a bill in the Senate yesterday appropriating $10,000 for the erection of a monument to mark the site of the battle of Bushy Run.

HUNDRED KNOWN
DEAD IN PATH OF TEXAS TORNADO

Many Others Severely Injured and Are Expected to Swell
the List.

PROPERTY DAMAGE LIGHT

In Comparison With First Estimates,
Due to Erratic Movements of the Storm; Temperature in Northern Section Drops to the Freezing Point.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, April 10.—One hundred known dead had been listed as victims of the tornado which yesterday struck Northern Texas, southern Oklahoma and part of Arkansas, when order began to form today from the chaos caused by the storm. The injured, some of them so badly hurt they cannot recover, are expected to number several hundred.

The property damage, while it will run into many thousands of dollars, will be smaller than at first expected, since the path of the storm avoided all of the principal cities, striking only farm houses and smaller villages.

Last night the homeless were cared for by neighbors. The storm in its erratic course did not devastate any entire region, often leaving several houses untouched and then dropping in and demolishing the next few homes.

The temperature dropped to freezing along the northern line to counties after the storm.

49 IN GREENSBURG CLASS

Unusually Large Number of Aspirants

GIVEN STICKPIN

Employees at Dickerson Run Hand-somerly Remember Former Chief.

Joseph Snyder, formerly general foreman of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie roadhouse at Dickerson Run but now master mechanic of the Monongahela railroad at Brownsville, was at Dickerson Run Wednesday. At the close of the meal's work at 3 o'clock he was given a surprise by the employees of the shop who presented him with a diamond stickpin.

SCOTSDALE TO CELEBRATE

EXPECTATION OF TURN IN THE TIDE IS NOT BEING REALIZED

On the Contrary, the Downward Trend Has Been Considerably Accelerated.

STEEL PRICE WRANGLE

Has Had the Effect of Adding Still More Ovens to the Inactive List; Many Plants Idle for the First Time in Years; Only 44% Running.

From The Weekly Courier.

The expectation that the coke trade was beginning to approach the turn in the tide, which began to be indulged following the agreement on a reduction in steel prices, is not being realized. While the impression was general that a deeper cut than was fixed at the conference of the steel makers and the Industrial Board would have quickened buying of steel and iron, with its resultant stimulus to coke, there was the feeling that the progress made in the direction of readjustment would at least halt the downward trend of the coke trade.

Such a condition has not been brought about, in fact, the movement of the coke trade toward the bottom of the incline seems to have been accelerated by the developments growing out of the wrangle that is occupying the time, energy and attention of two governmental agencies—the Railroad Administration and the Industrial Board—over the price the former shall or will pay for steel rails. The effect in the steel trade, which has been to close down more furnaces and plants, has had its immediate reflex in the coke region in the blowing out of more ovens and the complete shutting down of a number of plants which have not known an idle day, except holidays, for several years past.

Altogether 1,443 ovens were added to the idle list last week, not including 422 that were relegated to the "has been" class of several plants of the W. J. Rainey interests, thereby reducing the number of available ovens in the region to 36,003. This is the smallest total of ovens since 1907 and shows a loss of 3,156 from the maximum of 39,159 reached in 1907.

For the first time in years the Rainey interests have blown out Elm Grove, 100 ovens; Fort Hill, 86 ovens; and Grace, 80 ovens, leaving but 1,130 ovens out of a total of 1,793 of this interest in blast. The H. C. Frick Coke company placed 799 ovens out of blast last week, 639 of which were at Calumet, Hecla No. 1, Wynn and Dearth, all made completely idle. Out of 44 ovens plants of this company in the Connellsville region, 17 are now idle while only four out of 12 in the Lower Connellsville region are producing coke.

With the reduction in the number of active ovens to 16,158 but 44.8 per cent of the region's coke making equipment is now in use, and more ovens will go out this week. With 52.7 per cent of its ovens running the Lower Connellsville region is showing relatively the greater activity, compared with 41.2 per cent in the Connellsville region. Similarly the merchant operators with 60 per cent active would appear to be doing better than the furnace interests with 40 per cent in operation. It should be remembered, however, that the merchant ovens number only about half those of the furnace interests now that the Alcoa plant of 400 ovens, through its acquisition by the Pittsburgh Steel company, has become a furnace plant. Again, the merchant ovens are, on the whole, operating on a shorter work schedule than the furnace ovens.

The coal trade displays signs of greater activity, a condition brought about more, it is thought, by the depletion of stocks accumulated in the fall and early winter, than by any renewed activity of industry generally. This is the one hopeful aspect of the fuel situation as the coke region producers at present view the outlook.

Estimated production for the week ending Saturday, April 5, was 172,500 tons, contributed by the districts in the proportion of 108,292 tons by the Connellsville and 64,208 by the Lower Connellsville, decreases of 10,912 and 2,238 tons respectively, or a total decrease of 13,150 tons.

The production by interests was: Furnace, 117,150, a decrease of 4,950 tons; merchant ovens, 55,200, a decrease of 8,250 tons.

The estimated production in net tons of coke for 1913, compared with the corresponding weeks of 1912, is shown in the following tabulation:

Week	Mer.	Fur.	Total	1912
Jan. 1-4	75,224	89,004	164,228	160,083
Jan. 11	111,246	106,820	218,066	217,701
Jan. 18	110,810	106,820	217,630	217,415
Jan. 25	114,230	103,944	218,174	217,725
Feb. 1	103,764	133,480	237,244	214,458
Feb. 8	90,560	125,220	215,780	210,148
Feb. 15	86,138	114,220	200,358	200,772
Feb. 22	82,490	101,122	183,612	184,819
Mar. 1	78,344	116,538	194,882	185,828
Mar. 8	70,201	112,708	182,909	174,409
Mar. 15	68,592	122,726	191,318	185,122
Mar. 22	67,428	120,280	187,708	182,589
Mar. 29	63,560	122,100	185,660	182,142
Apr. 5	53,200	117,150	170,350	182,065

Compared with the corresponding week of 1912 last week's production shows a loss of 12,015 tons, or 6.6 per cent. For the year to date the production has been 5,123,570 tons. Compared with the total a year ago, 5,732,312 tons, the present year has developed a shrinkage of 608,742 tons, or 10.6 per cent.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY

The Connellsville region is not without hope of an early change for the better, but its expectation that the turn was near at hand has been doomed to be unrealized, at least for the present. A certain hope was begotten of the settlement of steel prices that a revival in demand for steel would ensue and that an increased demand for coke would in due course work its way back into the coke trade. While this hope was being indulged, the blow that almost killed father was dealt by the Railroad Administration's obstinate refusal to accept the price agreed upon for steel rails by the Industrial Board. In consequence the steel and iron industries have been forced to shut down and the inevitable law of the trade, coke ovens have been forced out of blast. 1,443, representing a number of long active plants in their entirety, having been blown out last week, leaving but 44 per cent of the ovens in blast.

Additional furnaces, some of which are users of Connellsville coke, went out of blast last week with the almost certain prospect that others will go out this week or next. The coke market presents two sides, the larger number of producers holding to $4.25 to $4.50 as the asking price; the other side represented by operators willing to sell odd lots at $4.00 down to $3.75 rather than miss a sale. Foundry coke maintains the wide range of $4.50 to $6.00, due largely to the fact that much more 72-hour coke is being produced than furnace, in proportion to output, on a short week working schedule.

CATARHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE AND EFFICIENT WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or throat, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 34 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, clouded thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucous dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh, and which may often be overcome by this efficient treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment. ### MAKING BETTER CITIZENS

Courts and Naturalization Bureau Elevating Educational Standard.

The effect of the educational campaign of the Bureau of Naturalization with the public schools is shown in no uncertain fashion by recent naturalization returns, the returns of the fiscal year 1912.

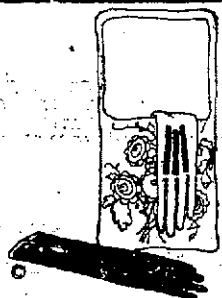

During the preceding year only 31,210 cases were "continued," which means, in the majority of cases, that the decision of the judge was withheld for a certain period to give the applicant time to pursue further his study of English and citizenship. During the year 1912, however, 46,519 cases were continued. This marks an increase of 50 per cent. Fifty per cent more cases—that means, in which the judge was impressed with the necessity of taking the educational qualification seriously: 50 per cent more communities, by a fair analogy, in which the foreign-born man or woman is being given opportunities of acquiring the knowledge of language and institutions of this country that will make him a good citizen.

NEWSY NOTES TELL WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE MILL TOWN

Historic Cost of Borough Water Works Said to be $200,000.

THE INVESTIGATION PROGRESSES

Facts and Figures Are Being Assembled in the Probe Before the Public Service Commission of New Rates; Elks Observe Appearances Day.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, April 10.—According to unofficial figures mentioned at a meeting of council last night, the "historic cost" of the plant of the Citizens Water company, the new rates of which are under investigation, will be found to be about $200,000. This statement was made by a member of the rate and water committee. Progress is being made in the probe before the Public Service Commission. It was said, but nothing definite can yet be announced.

Bills were ordered paid, the total being $3,897.35. The board of health asked for an appropriation of $1,200. This was held over until next meeting. It was stated that these officers had been elected: Dr. N. E. Slesley, secretary, at $20 per month, and P. P. Goshorn, health officer, at $50 per month.

Borough Solicitor F. B. Folk was instructed to notify former Tax Collector S. B. McMillan to turn over taxes past due, amounting to $2,000.

Elks Celebrate.

The annual banquet and installation of officers of the Scottdale Elks was held last evening. One hundred and fifty guests were present. John W. Carr, past exalted ruler, Pittsburg, installed the officers. The G. A. R., Spanish-American war veterans and the world war soldiers and sailors were the guests of the lodge. Dr. C. W. McKee acted as toastmaster and made an excellent address. John W. Carr and James Keegan spoke. James B. Millard of Connellsville responded with "The Elvenhous Hour." Top Sergeant Frank Carbaugh of Mount Pleasant was present and told how he got his wounds and how the brave officers of Company E fell. John R. Keeler of Monaca proved that he could be an entire evening's entertainer with his songs.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disagreeable, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE MOUTHS OF CANNON.

Every week sees thousands more of Uncle Sam's soldier boys landed in New York and hurried away to some training camp for mustering out. Daily new faces, fresh from the front, greet you. And you are glad to see every one of them.

One goes to sleep these nights with an entirely different feeling from that of six months ago. The old harrowing dread is gone; there are no more terrible nightmarish dreams; no more fear of what the dark may bring forth.

The mouths of "cannon" no longer threaten your boy. And the million or more doughboys who are still in France will hear no more the whine of shrapnel, the staccato echoes of machine guns, the crash of high explosive shells. War's alarms are over for them.

But it cost Uncle Sam something near $30,000,000,000 before he had his ponderous, plodding war machine in working order. Before it assumed the proportions that convinced the Hun that further fighting was folly.

Not all of that cost has been paid. Several billions of dollars will be needed to square accounts. Just how much only Uncle Sam can approximate. And Uncle Sam must raise it. Part of it must come through the Victory Liberty loan.

You will be asked shortly to make your contribution in bond purchases. And it may be that you will feel that you have done your bit. But before you turn the Victory Loan salesman away consider this:

Just how much does it mean to you to have those cannon stifled? Just how much to have your boy at home, safe and sound? Just how much to have the world at peace? Just how much to have conditions coming back to normal?

And make your purchase accordingly. You'll buy; never fear.

IF THE CONFERENCE BREAKS UP

Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

What if the President, talking to convince associate members of the Peace Conference that his prescriptions are best, leaves the Allies in the lurch? We opine that the United States would feel something of a chill. A correspondent in Paris who attempts to follow the course of Mr. Wilson on his return home, suggests that he would summon Congress, lay before a joint meeting of both houses the complete story of the negotiations that failed and "he might recommend that Congress adopt a joint resolution stating the terms upon which relations with Germany, Austria and Hungary would be resumed by the United States."

The President is assumed the duty of negotiating treaties; infrequently at least it is up to him to initiate the terms. Unquestionably it is the part of wisdom for him to have some grounds for belief that the Senate will approve of his work. The criticism of the President's peace-making efforts in the recent past has been based on his determination to ignore the Senate altogether, to force on others terms which he knows the Senators do not approve and so to draft the agreements that the constitutional ratifying power will have to accept all or none. To hand the whole business over to the entire Congress would be to go to the other extreme and it would be just as objectionable as his original project.

If a joint peace by the United States and the Allies with the enemy countries cannot be made, no matter what the reason for the failure, the logical thing would be for President Wilson to appoint plenipotentiaries to negotiate directly with representatives of the enemy governments and to submit to the Senate the results of their labors should the latter be productive of results which he could endorse. A great deal would be lost that way, to be sure. For one thing we would no longer have complete power of persuasion over the enemy. We would have to bargain with him. His position would not be without great advantages. Indeed, if the Peace Conference at Paris breaks up in disagreement, Germany will have scored a very great victory. She will be able to play one enemy against another or against a group. That is a game at which she is credited with being adept.

And what would be our relations with the enemy countries? If you are not with me you are against me. Open conflict is not to be expected. But we have considerable interests in all lands which would not be benefited by severance of the ties which recently have held the several countries close together. The outcome would be distressing for all concerned. No doubt this is realized by the statesmen at Paris. Wherefore hope never not be abandoned that there will be sufficient yielding here and there to prevent Germany from walking away with the victory, though some of the associated countries may have to swallow disappointments.

Isn't somebody trying to put it over somebody else before "It is over Over There?"

Every day will be "tag day" until the novelty of enforcing the automobile parking ordinance wears off.

The whole city will be a court of honor to the home coming service men, but we need to set off some part of it just to give emphasis to the honor we will be rendering to them.

In planning to do the work themselves, without the services of a contractor, the road supervisors of Dunbar township have a splendid opportunity to give or to lose the township considerable money on road building according to the work is well or poorly supervised.

With everybody but the office boys and janitors away from Washington who will appoint the plenipotentiaries to conclude a peace among the warring peace delegates in Paris?

The Dalk bill, which would remove practically all restrictions on the cold storage business now destined to be the feet consumers of food, should, and very likely will, be placed in storage itself.

Isn't there rather more of the "If I don't win I won't play" spirit at the Paris peace conference than would be expected in view of the character and attainments of the delegates? But this has been a characteristic of at least one of the number, hence creates no surprise.

Taking to bed, to the woods or on board ship promises to become a popular sport in Peace Conference circles.

For a nation having no representation at the peace table Germany is making rather more progress in winning the war than her most subtle and cunning diplomats could have hoped for her most skillful generals planned.

Bolshevism at Home

Bolshevism in the last analysis is the protest of the lower classes of society against what they conceive to be the oppression of those occupying a higher plane. It is the attempt of the peasantry to cast off the yoke of hunger, discouraging taxation, and enforced military service, under which they have been struggling in Europe for years, and to give themselves the privileges they have seen enjoyed by the various strata of society above them. The French Revolution was but an outbreak of Bolshevism, brought about by the excesses of the French court of the times. The French Commune of a later date was another popular protest against the conditions under which the common people were forced to live in the Second Empire.

The ground has been prepared for years for the outbreak of Bolshevism in Russia. Autocratic rulers, crushing taxation, no attempt to alleviate the condition of the working classes, all contributed to a state of social unrest which needed but a spark to start a general uprising among the masses. The war furnished the pretext. Conscription of the men to fight for a cause they knew nothing of; horrible slaughter of soldiers, undisciplined, frequently unarmed, and utterly incapable of competing with the German war machine; and taxation increased even further by the war's demands, furnished a fertile field for the insidious German propaganda cunningly designed to encourage the plain people of Russia to revolt against existing conditions. Once they had tasted power and realized that to government could exist without their support, the people were quick to take control, turn out their former rulers, and set up a system of their own. Progress from that state of affairs to the present chaos in Russia has been but a natural evolution.

In Hungary the people likewise have felt the oppression of unreasoning monarchies. Their situation has been similar to that of the Russians, although perhaps less severe. With them, too, the war has furnished the flame to kindle the smoldering revolt of the lower classes. The same may be said of Germany, although in that country another government succeeded that of the Kaiser so quickly that it was able, by stern repressive measures, to keep down the fires of Bolshevism, at least for the time being.

But what of our own country? We hear of headquarters of the Bolsheviks in the United States, of hundreds of agencies they have established among our people, and that our principals are being flooded with their propaganda. Largely in the propaganda that our institutions oppress the American people, as the governmental systems of the Old World bear upon its peoples, will the dangerous seed take root among us and flourish. It cannot succeed among a contented, well-fed, busy population. It will become implanted and grow where discontent is the rule, where decent food is beyond the reach of the poor, and where unemployment exists to any extent.

To prevent Bolshevism in America we must resort to introspection. If any of those conditions are present at any point then danger threatens at that place. The causes for discontent, whether from governmental autocracy or otherwise, must be ascertained and eradicated; it is imperative that the price of food be brought down to the lowest possible level; and employment found for every able-bodied man. When that is done, and a speedy consummation of the world peace, with a resumption of normal international commerce, will contribute more to those ends than anything else, then we can rest serene in the confidence that we are safe from the destructive influences of Bolshevism.

RECOMPENSE.

It's raining as I write these lines; around my shack the night wind whistles and and sudden time, and seems to say, "I'm not in vain!" It takes all kinds of wind and rain to bring the flowers of June. We must admit said flowers are worth the bitter gales that lash the earth, the rainstorms and the snows; we'll see what all the tempests mean, when we dig up our bottom cent to buy a large red rose. No jonquils would our garden beautify no tulips would in splendor flaunt their colors safe and sane; no lilies would in beauty bloom, no peonies would enjoy a boom, but for the stormy rain. The wind was bolshievous today; it blew my parasol away, and spoiled my stovepipe hat; but as it whirled it seemed to bring a message of harvest of July! Oh, boob, get wise to that! All things are working for your good, although their curves, misadventured, will sometimes make us tired; we must toil on through wind and wet, through storm and shine, if we would get the things we've most desired. If everything for which we wish were brought us on a golden dish, this life would be a front; we do not rightly prize a thing, a delectable or a diamond ring, unless we've felt the cost.

THE HARBOR OF LIFE.

Some dream of a land that is fairer than this, and picture a realm in the sky. But the beauty surrounding them adorns here their life. As they search for the splendors on high, Leave death for the dead. There are songs to be sung. There are joys to be born out of strife. The world is the place where all hours should be young. The earth is the harbor of life. There are goals to be reached, there are deeds to be done. There are joys for our children to know. There are battles with evil and hate to be won. That the world with contentment may glow. And the mission of man from the time of his birth to the day that his spirit shall soar. It is to make for the living a happier than ever it has been before. We can change not the realm that is promised for all. Nor comfort the souls of the dead. But here we can lighten the burdens that fall. And level the pathways we tread. We can make of this earth a more beautiful place. To life many charms we can give; We can fill it with laughter and music and grace; We can make it a pleasure to live.

Let us toil while we may for the kingdom of earth, Let us brighten the days with our song; Let us fill the dark corners with sunshine and mirth And banish oppression and wrong. Let us dream not so much of the Heaven afar. That the beauty about us we miss, Our duty lies here, where at present we are. Let us make a good world out of this.

ment Date.

SERMON TO GRADUATES MAY 25

Important Matters to be Considered at Meeting of the Memorial Association
This Evening: Body of Mrs. Loar is Brought Here; Mrs. Nechling Dies.

Special to The Courier
MOUNT PLEASANT, April 10.—At a meeting of the local school board the date for commencement was fixed for May 27. The sermon to the class will be delivered May 25 in the Grand Opera house. April 21 was set as the date for the election of teachers.

Memorial Meeting Tonight
The Memorial Association of Mount Pleasant and vicinity will meet in the council rooms of the municipal building this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers and other important matters will come up.

Mrs. Mary J. Loar.
The body of Mrs. Mary Landis Loar, aged 47 years, a former resident of this place was brought here yesterday and buried in the Mount Pleasant cemetery. Mrs. Loar was the wife of James W. Loar of Blackhawk street, Swissvale and died at her home there on Saturday of pneumonia. She was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Swissvale. Besides her husband she leaves four children, Lester L. and Eugene L. Loar, Mrs. I. M. Younklin and Mrs. S. W. Liddon, two grandchildren, her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lindsay, three sisters Mrs. E. N. Brubaker of Blairsville and Mrs. G. I. Gettig and Mrs. J. L. Gilkey of Bradock, two brothers S. C. Lindsay of Greensburg and Frank G. Lindsay of Connelville. Funeral services were held at her late home Tuesday evening, conducted by Rev. C. A. Clark of the Swissvale M. E. church.

Mrs. Ella Nechling.
Word was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Ella Nechling following an operation at the Mercy hospital. The deceased was 51 years old and a former resident of Mount Pleasant. The body was taken to her home at Conneautville where funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. She is survived by two children, one son, Henry, and one daughter, Minnie.

Personal
Mrs. Mary Kester of Westerville, Ohio is the guest of Mrs. Emma Tinsman.

Mrs. Arthur Page went to Pittsburgh yesterday where Mrs. C. G. Page underwent an operation.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage, Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it. No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD DID NOT FUNCTION PROPERLY, IS CLAIM

Agreed With the Sellers of Steel But Not With the Railroad Administration, Which is the Buyer.

Special to The Weekly Courier
NEW YORK, April 9.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trades tomorrow as follows:

The curious discovery was made a few days ago that the Industrial Board did not have adequate assurance from the Railroad Administration that it would buy steel at the prices the Industrial Board gave to the Associated Press a few minutes after it had agreed upon them with the representatives of the iron and steel industry. The common interpretation of the originally announced program of the Industrial Board was that it would act as an intermediary between seller and buyer.

The Railroad Administration has been widely criticized for refusing to accept the prices dictated by the Industrial Board when the board had agreed with one of the two parties who are normally required to make a bargain. The excess price for steel if and excess is represented would be paid from the public funds which are obtained by a very general system of taxation. The profits of steel producers, heavily taxed for 1918, will be taxed relatively lightly for 1919.

Since the issue was drawn the Industrial Board has ostensibly been engaged in an effort to induce the Railroad Administration to accept the prices and place orders and bids, and the assistance of the President and of Cabinet members. The director general appears to be too well fortified with information to be won over. In many quarters the feeling is now entertained that an open market first for pig iron and then for steel products will be the outcome of this whole curious performance of attempting to restore operation of the law of supply and demand by fixing prices for a period of nine months.

There is scarcely any buying of pig iron and very little of steel products. The larger mills are operating fairly well, but chiefly upon old orders. Many of the smaller mills are closed and with the present hand to mouth buying cannot collect sufficient business to make a start upon. There is a considerable shading of price in finished steel products by a few producers in some lines and by more in other lines. The United States Steel Corporation is adhering rigidly to recognized prices and is operating at a good rate on old orders.

Return of Wilson Seized Upon as Opportunity for Intimidation.

PARIS PAPER IS CAUSTIC

Official News is Received of Withdrawal of Entente Troops from Black Sea Port; Exchange of Prisoners Being Arranged With the Bolsheviks.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, April 9.—We do not accuse one ally of forgetting what France has done," says the Matin today, "but nevertheless we witnessed a curious thing yesterday. American propagandists or newspaper men knowing that President Wilson had summoned to Brest the ship which is to take him back to America made this natural order an opportunity for blackmail.

"They made—wrote the disappearance of all Americans who are friends of France—a bold-faced attempt at intimidation. If you are not more accommodating," they went all over the city saying, "our President will return home and you can extricate yourself from your difficulties by yourself."

A VERY DRESSY SUIT

Many things went into the making of this spring suit. First there was navy blue tulle, for skirt, around the coat and a bit on the sleeves, then tulle, in a checked pattern, for the coat itself, in navy blue, too—Duvrny, next, for the face, collar and vest with blue silk embroidery, and a smart little, smoked pearl buckle to fasten the belt.

"TROLIC" DATES CHANGED

Soldier Benefit Play Will Be Staged at Suisun Theatre.

Instead of at the Colonial theatre, the musical comedy, "A Winter Garden Frolic," will be staged at the Suisun theatre, while the dates have been changed from the first week in May to April 23, 29 and 30. This announcement was made by the rehearsal last night.

There will be another rehearsal tomorrow night at which time Director C. M. Couch is desirous that all in the cast be present so that the chorus may be made up. "A Winter Garden Frolic" is the only musical show thus far arranged. It gives promise of being a great success.

Sheriff Saves West Virginia Negro by Spiriting Him Out Back Door.

By Associated Press.

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Apr. 9.—A mob of several hundred men wrecked the county jail here today in efforts to get Hugh Perkins, a negro, who was arrested, late yesterday charged with attacking Mrs. Bessie Zimmerman, wife of a prominent farmer.

While the mob was battering down the front door of the jail the sheriff escaped with the prisoner through a rear entrance and took him to Martinsburg for safe keeping.

Find a Moth Exterminator.

Experiments of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, have demonstrated that naphthalene is uniformly effective in protecting woolens from moths without infection and in killing all stages of the insect, says the Des Moines Register.

A red cedar chest recently killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae. It did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all of the resulting larvae immediately. Red cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the flannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.

The People Who Work With Swift & Company

Big Business is usually pictured in the public mind as a huge, soulless machine. As a matter of fact, it is just a collection of human beings like you.

Without boasting and simply to give the public an idea of the human side of Swift & Company, we publish the following facts:

The lowest rate of wages paid to men has been increased voluntarily and by arbitration 167 per cent in the past three years; the wages of all packing-house labor have been increased an average of 125 per cent.

There is an Employees' Benefit Association (voluntary) providing disability and death benefits for a small weekly payment. Sick allowances are granted in times of illness, and pensions for disability and old age are provided without expense to the employee.

Under a two year time payment plan 4,000 employees have become shareholders in Swift & Company.

Company physicians attend employees needing their help at the plant and at home, without charge.

More than 1,500 of the 7,500 men who left to join the army and navy have returned to their jobs, and jobs are waiting for the others as soon as they return.

At the general office in Chicago, every boy is given an hour's schooling daily on company time, such work being accredited by the high school authorities in securing a two year commercial course diploma.

A summer home is maintained at Fish Lake, Indiana, near Chicago, where women plant employees may spend their vacations, without cost.

Swift & Company is co-operating with other employers to improve living conditions around the stock yards.

More and more thought and attention are being given to the opportunity and responsibilities presented in a big industry to improve working conditions and to raise living standards.

These are beginnings of a broad, constructive program, details of which are now being worked out by the Employees Relations Committee of Swift & Company.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF PERSHING TELLS OF 28TH'S WORK

Summary of Movements Contained in Cable Report to the War Department.

IN CONTINUOUS ACTION

Movements Traced From Start of Drive Against Huns to the Rest Period Following the War; Command is Scheduled to Return in May

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Cable advices which have reached the War Department from General Pershing contain the first official summary of the movements of the 28th Division after reaching France and show that except for two short rest periods in September and October, the division or some of its units were in action continuously from July 15 to the beginning of the armistice.

It was on July 15 that four companies, including B and C of the 110th Infantry and two others, had the distinction of helping to stop the Germans in their last great thrust against the Allied line east of Rheims.

The story of that defense and the part Pennsylvanians played in it has been told piecemeal by a few of those who were there. Details are not given in the cables but the distinction of participation in that action is officially recognized. This was east of Rheims, the report says before the division itself went into the line. The summary follows:

"The first units of the division arrived in France near the middle of May and shortly after June 1 the entire division was in France. It first entered the line as a division on July 27, southwest of Permy (Aisne). On July 28 four companies of this division had the distinction of helping to stop the Germans in their last great thrust against the Allied line east of Rheims.

On July 28 the division, after constructing bridges attacked across the Ourcq on a front of five kilometers. On July 30 the division advanced against heavy machine gun fire and captured the Bois d'Empettes (north of Ronchères). On July 31 two separate attacks were launched against heavy machine gun fire and a short advance was made, resulting in the capture of 75 prisoners. The division continued its advance through Dravigny, Arleux-Ponsart, and S. Gilles northward to the Vesle river, near Fismes. This advance, covering the period up to August 25 was featured by strong rear-guard actions on the part of the enemy in his desperate attempt to keep his lines sufficiently intact to permit the orderly withdrawal of his large armies and vast stores of supplies from this salient.

"On September 4 the division crossed the Vesle on its entire front advanced two and a half kilometers captured the villages of Flamette, Combaudon, Bailleux and La Grande Hamette, together with some prisoners and machine guns.

"This division, in spite of enfilading fire from its right flank, continued its advance across the plateau toward the Aisne river up to about September 7.

"The division appears in line again in the Argonne during the first week of October. On October 1 they repulsed heavy counter attacks against their entire divisional front in the Aisne valley. On October 7 they repulsed fresh attempts of the enemy to cross the Aisne and Sappe rivers and captured Chateauesne.

"After a well-earned rest the division entered a new sector near La Chausse lake about half way between Verdun and Metz, where they remained until the signing of the armistice.

"The total casualties of this division were 14,417, this total being exceeded by only three other divisions, namely the Second, First and Third in the order named. The division is scheduled to return to this country during the month of May.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest, excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers, so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardice, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People who are of red blood and steady nerves have no desire to shrink work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind, vigorous and energetic in body, in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery, to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance, is not only a wish but a man now go, a superman, you must take normal tablets of Bio-Tone every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take Bio-Tone after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after each meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not steadier and stronger as before, if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-Tone is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women. It is offered direct through druggists and is sold at all drug stores. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—call on any druggist.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Every chronic case of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir among the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best only give temporary relief. This is also true of all operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise act on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, a huge talent internally is not digested in the stomach but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first stops all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It is positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Bleeding often comes in two or three days at most even in cases of profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments and operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy definitely conquers even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind bleeders or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT! What is known as itching piles arises in the true sense of the word although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. For sale by the Connellsville Drug Company—Adv.

HARDER TEST THE IMPOSED ON BILLIARD EXPERTS EMPLOYING 18.1 BALKLINE

Star Cueists of Present Day.

According to the remarkable averages and numerous big runs that expert cue players like Champion Willie Koppe, Jack Scherf and Walker Coch-18.1 balking making at 18.2 balking, a movement is now being introduced into the standard game for championship competition. As a result, it is probable that 18.1 will be the style of play in the tournament which it is planned to hold at this year or early next year, to decide a championship.

The change from being urged by veterans, which has been the popular game for many years, is making the game more players and promoters of the game as a means of the game as Maurice Delmont and stimulating interest. Such veterans of others who see the progress of the game, has been made, are behind the plan.

LITTLE PICKUPS OF SPORT

Ed Koney will be succeeded as first baseman on the Boston Braves by Walter Holke.

The Boston Red Sox have returned back Kibel, infielder, to the Richmond club of the Virginia league.

Red Cauer of the Giants, sent home by that game to his family. His mother is Cecil Algonon.

Jimmy Archer is buying hops for a Chicago pecking plant. He will be a rooster instead of a player this year.

Walter McCredie of Portland, who has been famous for developing short stops, is wondering if he will be as fortunate this season.

Dick Hoblitzel was not downcast over his release by the Boston Red Sox, as it was not his plan, it is stated, to return to baseball.

Cornell, Penn., Dartmouth, Syracuse and Columbia may form an athletic alliance that will rival that of Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

Looks as if Griffith will take more youngsters South with him than any one else. The Washington pilot is on the lookout for new blood.

Lient, Leon Cadore, Brooklyn pitcher, who saw service overseas, says he will be glad to get back to baseball. That goes for some others, too.

The Giants announce a new pitching trout, named Frank Noel. He hails from Wheeling, W. Va., and has been in the army until recently.

Ed Barrow comes along to join Ed Gleason in announcing that the Yankees will make a strong club this season. Winter guesses never hurt any manager.

Josh Devore may come back into baseball as an outfielder with Sammy Strong's Chattanooga team. Josh claims that his army training has renewed his youth.

Leslie Munnamer is one of the most traveled catchers in the American league. He went from Boston to New York, then to St. Louis, and now he is in Cleveland.

The San Francisco club has signed a St. Louis youth named Jimmy Church, who made a great reputation playing ball with a navy team around France during the war.

Bert Gallia promises to be the star of the Browns' pitching staff. He had some trouble with his arm last season, but the salary whip is in fine condition again, he writes.

Artie Fletcher was looking about for a farm last fall. This year he was the first Giant to sign. It is easy to figure out where a player's thoughts turn as spring approaches.

Pat Moran is the first experienced big league manager to be appointed to lead the Cincinnati Reds in many years. Gansel, O'Day, Finkler, Herzog and Matty were all experimenters at the big league managing game.

According to a story printed in Brooklyn, Pitcher Ed Appleton, still carried on the Brooklyn list, has been "knocked down" by army service abroad and may be of use to Manager Robinson the coming season, providing he gets out of service in time.

May. One World Series on Her. It Couldn't Be Done Four Times.

Charles Herzog.

Opportunity to execute had an opportunity to execute the idea that the world series baseball fans the Marylander took fire, and it was at a dinner at the Hotel Herzig made an address that "baseball outlook, and then out the assembled dinner if they don't ask him any questions."

One bright youth stood up and said: "Mr. Herzog, I have been a fan for years, but I think the world series may have been fixed. Do you know of any series having been fixed?"

The once, popular member of the Giants was astounded, but came back quickly with the following: "No, my friend, there never was a world series."

Charles Herzog.

fixed. I have been in four world series and in two intercity series in my major league baseball career, and have been on the losing side every time. Now if the world series were fixable, do you think I'd let them 'cold deck' me four times in a row? Not C. Lincoln Herzog, and that apparently satisfied his interrogator.

Foch Joins the "Pipers."

Marshal Foch has acquired a British habit. "The French do not generally smoke pipes. Day by day Marshal Foch saw Field Marshal Haig and other British generals in the vortex of the work calmly doing their work behind good high-bowled briar pipes. Foch asked Haig what it was like to smoke a pipe. He bought an English one. He filled it under careful British military instruction. He began the attempt with energy and purposeful determination, but at first smoked more matches than tobacco. Now, however, he has mastered it and thoroughly enjoys a good briar which he has bought from an English firm.

The Victor's Homecoming.

Str. Douglas Haig's Grenadier guard of honor at Charing Cross, when the man of the hour came home, was a particularly fine body of men, and from end to end of the lines there was hardly a man without wound stripes. Not a few of the distinguished people on the platform noticed that three of the guard, standing side by side, had 10 wound stripes between them.

THE SOISSON

"THE COMMON CAUSE"—A wonderful emotional heart-throbbing picture of Europe, with Herbert Rawlinson, supported by an excellent cast, in the leading role is being shown today. The story so graphically presented by J. Stuart Blackton is one of love and sacrifice. You see Poltu and Tommy shoulder to shoulder with the United States Marines, invincible devils, fighting forward, ever forward, and Pershing's gallant boys, and the tanks, juggernauts of fate lumbering into action to strike terror to the heart of the Hun. The picture yesterday was witnessed by record-breaking crowds and was pronounced as one of the best screen attractions seen here for some time. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow and Saturday Goldwyn will present Louis Denison in "Oh Johnny," a delightful human play, replete with moments of suspense and alive with humorous incidents. Long a stage player of uncommonly fine attainments, Mr. Denison has been sought by motion picture producers as a matter of course. Possessing a personality, unlike any on view today, Mr. Denison is introduced by Goldwyn with the pride and enthusiasm of a discoverer, confident that its judgment will be ratified by the nation-wide motion picture audience.

THE PARAMOUNT

"HIT OR MISS"—A five-part world feature in which Carlisle Blackwell and Evelyn Greeley are starred is being shown today. A delightfully humorous situation forms the basic plot of the picture. Mr. Blackwell appears in the role of "Butts" Corcoran, a press agent employed by his friend, Frank Morrison, to help the latter in his love affair with Mary McDowell. But "Butts" himself falls in love with Mary. Mary's uncle is an eminent entomologist, in other words a bug-hunter, and he detests "Butts" for being an unscientific insect. The uncle, on the other hand, thinks that Morrison is one of the world's greatest scientists and the reason he thinks this is because "Butts" has so successfully pressed his friend. Many of the scenes in the picture are laid in the outdoors in settings of great beauty and these add much to the interest and attractiveness of this unusual picture. "Hit or Miss" is a picture you will thoroughly enjoy and will long remember. An interesting weekly review is also being shown. Friday and Saturday Dustin Farnum will be presented in "In the Open," a splendid attraction.

THE TRUTH ABOUT ECZEMA AND PILES

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and hemorrhoids. The grateful letters received every day are worth more to him than money. "I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to do it any good. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great. Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Chicago, Ill. I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone. A. R. Ringer, 1127 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis. Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.—Adv.

DRANK TOAST TO WILHELM

Field Marshal Hindenburg and Army Staff Observed the Birthday of the Former Kaiser.

From a report of the Cussel Allgemeine Zeitung, as cited in the Vossische Zeitung, it appears that, despite all denials, the ex-kaiser's birthday was celebrated at the German army headquarters. The journal says that Marshal von Hindenburg referred to the ex-kaiser as follows: "Even people of different views would consider it cowardice and disloyalty if we should hesitate to admit frankly that we are thinking today with love, gratitude, reverence and great sorrow of the Kaiser, to whom we have hitherto devoted our lives and our actions; and for whom we were ever ready to stake our blood and our treasure for the welfare of the fatherland. May God bless him and give him strength to bear the heavy burden which God's inscrutable will has placed upon him. Let us drink a silent toast to his health with this sincere wish from our loyal hearts."

Where Huns Were Inferior. There is a noteworthy example of the preservation of valuable military secrets in the interesting article written by the secretary of the British Geographic society entitled "German War Maps and Surveys." British methods of survey and mapmaking were far superior to the enemy's, and one conspicuous success was scored in the scientific development of sound ranging for artillery. They used a self-recording apparatus, an ingenious and delicate piece of mechanism, which was used during the battle of Arras in April, 1917. The idea upon which it was based must have been known to a great many persons, both soldiers and civilians, but it never reached the enemy, though how much he desired to obtain it was revealed by Ludendorff's issue of an order in which he insisted upon the importance of capturing a set of these instruments. Until practically the end of the war German sound ranging was done with stop watches, a hopelessly crude and inaccurate arrangement in comparison with the scientific British system.—In Alliance, Staff.

Stop.
"Fine day, isn't it?"
"Sir, you have the advantage of me! I don't know you."
"H-m! I fail to see the advantage."

MEYERSDALE PLANS PURCHASE OF PARK FOR A PLAYGROUND

Booster Club Starts the Movement and Civic League Will Help Along the Good Work.

MEYERSDALE, April 9.—The regular monthly meeting of the Community Boosters was held Tuesday evening with a very good attendance. Among the many business matters transacted was the deciding to purchase the Slicer park. The soliciting committee having reported that they had in sight the necessary funds to purchase it. It is the intention to have this properly drained and fixed up for a park and public playground. Of course, much can not be done the first year but in a few years Meyersdale will have a little park that they will feel proud of.

At the Civic League meeting held Monday evening it was decided by the ladies that they would help the men of the town in purchasing the public playground and park and will in the course of a year raise a sum to be given for that purpose.

Rev. Father James Quinn of Midland, Md., was here Tuesday and in the evening delivered an eloquent sermon in St. Philip and James Catholic church. The Lenten services being held that evening instead of Wednesday.

Dr. P. P. Ritter, a former resident of Meyersdale, but now of Boswell, was here a few days during the week calling on friends.

A. W. Poorbaugh and S. P. McKenzie were recent visitors to Cumberland, having gone to visit the former's sister, Miss Lou Poorbaugh, a patient in the Allegheny hospital.

Mrs. E. D. Leonard, who spent the winter in Georgia, has returned to Meyersdale.

RAILROAD WAGES WILL BE KEPT UP BY NEW MEASURE

To Be Introduced as Soon as New Congress Convened in Session.

ROADS BACK TO OWNERS

But to be Under Federal Regulation,
Along With Telephones, Pipe Lines and Private Cars; Interstate Commerce Commission Powers Enlarged

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Provision for maintaining high wages among railroad, telegraph and telephone employees in order to meet the increased cost of living is made in a bill to be introduced at the beginning of the new Congress by Representative John J. Esch, of Wisconsin, the new chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

The labor provision is included in that part of the measure which relates to the enlarged powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It stipulates that hereafter in reaching its conclusion as to the reasonableness of any rate, fare, charge, classification, regulation or practice, the commission shall take into consideration the increased cost of labor and other operating costs, in so far as they may become material, in any case under investigation.

This will actually become law is considered by members of Congress as certain. Esch will play the most important part in framing reconstruction transportation legislation. He is expected to take this way for protection to labor because he has the sympathy of his Republican colleagues. In the Senate it is likely that there will be no difficulty. There, Albert J. Cummins, of Iowa, is chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee. He it was who single-handedly incorporated into the Adamson law the declaration that labor is not a commodity, or article of commerce.

In what will probably be known as the most important piece of transportation legislation since the Hepburn act, Esch provides for private ownership under sweeping federal control, not only of the railroads, but of the telegraph and telephone systems, oil pipe lines, and private cars owned by the meat packers. All are declared common carriers and placed under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which is given power to fix rates in the interest of the public. It is also stated to be the duty of every common carrier to establish just and reasonable rules, regulations and practices with respect to car service, and every rule which is not just and reasonable is prohibited and held unlawful. Every carrier must file schedules of car service with the commission. After hearing of complaint, the commission is empowered to remedy unjust and unreasonable rules. In case of emergency it may suspend all rules and provide car service during such time as in its opinion will best promote the interests of the public and the commerce of the people.

Remedies for conditions which the war brought more clearly to light are also provided in the Esch bill. The commission is empowered to permit the pooling by the roads of traffic and facilities so as to make possible unity of terminals and ticket offices. It may also consolidate two or more roads. It may fix the minimum rate of charge. It may in its discretion suspend a new rate for ninety days until it hears the merits of the case and determines whether it shall be continued.

One of the most sweeping changes made in the bill is its grant to the Interstate Commerce Commission of authority to harmonize differences between it and state utilities commissions, to grant hearings to them, and to use their records for its information. Another is extension of authority to the commission to supervise issues of securities of carriers, not only in time but in amount. In this, too, the state bodies are given the right to present, before the commission such representations as they deem just for conserving the interests of their people and their respective states.

The measure will be taken up by the committee immediately after organization and be put through to final passage. It is anticipated, some time during the summer.

How a Father Has Learned to Save Shoe Bills.

"My son is very hard on shoes, so keeping him properly shod has been quite an expense to me," writes Mr. J. Allison Allen, of Antrim, Arkansas.

"But since I started to buy Neolin-soled shoes for him I have found that it costs only about a third as much to keep him in shoes."

This is because Neolin Soles are so tough and durable that they wear a very long time. Shoe bills are kept down because you don't need so many pairs.

You can get Neolin-soled shoes at almost any good shoe store. They come in all styles and for all members of the family. Neolin Soles are also available everywhere, for re-soles. They are produced by a scientific process to be what shoes ought to be: comfortable, waterproof and long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

GREAT WAR VETERANS BAND FROM CANADA TO TOUR FOR LOAN

OTTAWA MUSICIANS WHO BOUGHT AND PLAYED
OVERSEAS WILL APPEAR IN THIS DISTRICT.

Music may soothe the savage breast, but this is not the brand of harmony ordinarily played by the Great War Veterans' Band of Ottawa, Canada, which will start a tour of the Fourth Federal Reserve District beginning April 14, in the interest of the Victory Loan.

The Great War Veterans' Band is composed of thirty of the Canadians who fought in Flanders. Each of these musicians is able to "double in steel" as well as on brass, and every one of them wears a wound stripe to prove it.

In France they alternately used their hand instruments and bayonets and drummed the Hun out of many a trench. Several are the proud possessors of one or more hero medals.

Lieutenant T. W. James, the band leader, took the first Canadian army band to France in 1914 and served until the armistice was signed. In France he organized the first Brigade Band over in the field with some of the men who are still with him.

A number of his players are former members of the famous Tenth Battalion, which held the Huns at Ypres in April, 1915, when the Germans sought to sweep through to Calais.

Some of the men in the Great War Veterans' Band are permanently crippled as a result of their wounds. For example, a shell-maimed left hand prevents one of the musicians from holding his cornet, so he holds it taut in his mouth by means of straps fastened around his neck. The solo trombone player with Lieutenant James has only one lung. Bullets and a Hun bayonet tore away the other lung, but he is still a proficient musician and in good health.

Prominent speakers and a battery of salesmen will accompany the band in its swing around the district.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allowed Completely Banish All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Connellsville Drug Co. can supply you.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula for seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"Green Fancy. Is that the name he gave the place or does it spring from—"

"Was christened by me own self," Mr. Barnes, the first time she was there, two years ago. I'll walk with you to the fence beyond if you've no objections," said O'Dowd genially, and asked his arm through that of Barnes. The latter was at once subtly aware of the fact that he was being deliberately conducted from the grounds. However, he was now convinced that O'Dowd had been close upon his heels on the instant he entered them; here was something uncanny in the fellow that possessed him. "Such espionage as this signified something rep and imperative in the presence of only O'Dowd but the Jack-in-the-box gardener a few minutes earlier."

His mind was still full of the lovely stranger about whom O'Dowd had so mysteriously tied over the telephone. "I must ask you to apologize to the young lady on whom I blundered a few moments ago, Mr. O'Dowd. She just have been startled. Pray convey to her my solicitude and excuses."

"Consider it done, my dear sir," said he. "Our most charming and seductive guest," he went on. "Before of the two of you, I'll stake my head you were startled. The most coming suddenly upon such rare love scenes is almost equivalent to being struck by a bolt of lightning. More than one painter of portraits has said that she is the most beautiful woman in the world. Miss Cameron of New Orleans, a friend of Mrs. Van Dyke. We have quite an enchanting house party, Mr. Barnes, if you consider no more than the feminine side of it. By the way, have you heard when the corner is to hold his inquiries?"

"Nothing definite," he may wait a week," said Barnes.

"I suppose you'll stick around until it's over," ventured O'Dowd. Barnes thought he detected a slight harshness in his voice.

"I have quite made up my mind to stay until the mystery is entirely cleared up," he said. "The case is so interesting that I don't want to miss a shred of it."

"I don't blame you," said O'Dowd heartily. "I'd like nothing better than to mix up in it. The next time you plan to pay a visit, telephone in advance. I may be able to persuade my host that you're a decent, law-abiding, educated gentleman, and he'll consent to receive you at Green Fancy. Good day to you," and he shook hands with the departing trespasser.

"Taking a walk?" was the landlord's greeting as Barnes mounted the tavern steps at dusk.

"Going over the grounds of last night's affair," responded Barnes, pausing.

As he entered the door he was acutely aware of an intense stare leveled at him from behind by the landlord of Hart's Tavern. Half way up the stairway he stopped short and with difficulty repressed the exclamation that rose to his lips.

He had recalled a significant incident of the night before. Almost immediately after the departure of Room and Paul from the Tavern Putnam Jones had made his way to the telephone behind the desk and had called a number in a loud, brisk voice, but the subsequent conversation was carried on in subdued tones, attended by haste and occasional furtive glances in the direction of the taproom.

Upon reaching his room Barnes permitted the suppressed emotion to escape his lips in the shape of a soft whistle, which if it could have been translated into words would have said: "By Gad, why haven't I thought of it before? He sent out the warning that Room and Paul were on the way! And I'd like to bet my last dollar that someone at Green Fancy had the other end of the wire."

Mr. Rusheroff was giving Hamlet's address to the players, in the taproom, when Barnes came downstairs at nine o'clock.

A small, dark man who sat alone at a table in the corner caught Barnes' eye and smiled smugly. He was undoubtedly a stranger; his action was meant to convey to Barnes the information that he too was from a distant and sophisticated community and that a bond of sympathy existed between them.

Putnam Jones spoke suddenly at Barnes' shoulder. He started involuntarily. The man was beginning to get on his nerves. He seemed to be dogging his footsteps with ceaseless persistency.

"That fellow over there in the corner," said Jones softly. "Is a book agent from your town. He sold me a set of Dickens when he was here last time, about six weeks ago. A year's subscription to two magazines, thrown in. By gosh, these book agents are slick ones."

"He's a shrewd-looking chap," commented Barnes.

"Says he won't be satisfied till he's made this section of the country the most cultured, refined spot in the United States," said Jones solemnly. "Excuse me. There goes the telephone. Maybe it's news from the street."

With the spasmodic thinking of the telephone bell the book agent arose and made his way to the little office. Barnes glanced over his shoulder a moment later and saw him studying the register. The pulse of his sleek head, however, suggested a listening attitude. Putnam Jones, not four feet away, was speaking into the telephone receiver. As the receiver was restored to its hook Barnes turned again. Jones and the book agent were examining the register, their heads almost meeting from opposite sides of the desk.

The latter straightened up, stretched his arms, yawned, and announced in a loud tone that he guessed he'd stop out and get a bit of fresh air before turning in.

"Any news?" inquired Barnes, approaching the desk after the door had closed behind the book agent.

"It wasn't the sheriff," replied Jones shortly, and immediately resumed his interrupted discourse on books and book agents. Ten minutes elapsed before the landlord's garrulity was checked by the sound of an automobile coming to a stop in front of the house.

Barnes turned expectantly toward the door. Almost immediately the car started again, with a loud shifting of gears, and a moment later the door opened to admit, not a fresh arrival but the little book agent.

"Party trying to make Hornville tonight," he announced casually. "Well, good night. See you in the morning." Barnes was not in a position to doubt the fellow's word, for the car unmistakably had gone on toward Hornville. He waited a few minutes after the man disappeared up the narrow stairway, and then proceeded to test his powers of divination. He was as sure as he could be sure of anything that had not actually come to pass that in a short time the automobile would again pass the tavern, but this time from the direction of Hornville.

Lighting a cigarette he strolled outside. He had barely time to take a position at the darkened end of the porch before the sounds of an approaching machine came to his ears. A second or two later the lights swung around the bend in the road a quarter of a mile above Hart's Tavern, and down came the car at a high rate of speed. It dashed past the tavern with a great roar and rattle and shot off into the darkness beyond. As it rushed through the dim circle of light in front of the tavern Barnes succeeded in obtaining a brief but convincing view of the car. That glance was enough, however. He would have been willing to go before a jury and swear that it was the same car that had deposited him at Hart's Tavern the day before.

Having guessed correctly in the one instance he allowed himself another and even bolder guess—the little book agent had either received a message from or delivered one to the occupant or driver of the car from Green Fancy.

CHAPTER VIII.

A Note, Some Fancies and an Expedition in Quest of Facts.

He started upstairs, his mind full of the events and conjectures of the day. As he entered the room his eyes fell upon a white envelope at his feet. It had been slipped under the door since he left the room an hour before.

"Terse reminder from the prudent Mr. Jones! His bill for the day! He picked it up, glanced at the inscription, and at once altered his opinion. His full name was there in the handwriting of a woman. For a moment he was puzzled; then he thought of Miss Thackeray. A note of thanks, no doubt, unpleasantly fulsome! Vaguely annoyed, he ripped open the envelope and read:

"In case I do not have the opportunity to speak with you tonight, this is to let you know that the little man who says he is a book agent was in your room at three o'clock of an hour while you were away this afternoon. You'd better see if anything is missing."

M. T.

He made a hasty but careful examination of his effects. There was not the slightest evidence that his pocket had been opened or even disturbed. If the little book agent spent three-quarters of an hour in the room he managed most effectively to cover up all traces of his visit.

Barnes did not go to sleep until long after midnight. He now regarded himself as definitely committed to a combination of sinister and piquant enterprises, not the least of which was to know about the mysterious young woman at Green Fancy!

The next day he, with other lodgers in the Tavern, was put through an examination by the police and county officials from St. Elizabeth, and notified that, while he was not under suspicion or surveillance, it would be necessary for him to remain in the "hallway" until detectives, already on the way, were satisfied that he possessed no knowledge that would be useful to them in clearing up what had now assumed the dignity of a "national problem."

O'Dowd rode down from Green Fancy and created quite a sensation among the officials by announcing that they had a perfect right to extend their search for clues to all parts of his estate, and that he was deeply interested in the outcome of their investigations.

The sheriff said he would like to "run over the ground a bit" that very afternoon if it was agreeable to Mr. O'Dowd.

O'Dowd stayed to dinner. (Dinner was served in the middle of the day

ABOUT 12 PER CENT FOREIGN-BORN MINE WORKERS TO LEAVE

As Soon as They Can Secure
Passports; Will Number
36,000, or More.

ONE-HALF INTEND TO STAY

To Settle Down on Their Little Farms or Take Possession of Property to Which They Have Fallen Heirs; Most of Them Married With Families.

According to a survey made by the National Coal Association approximately 12 per cent of the bituminous coal mine workers in the various fields of the United States expect to return to Europe as soon as they can obtain passports. Slightly more than half of those who will return plan to remain permanently in Europe. The remainder expect to come back to America after more or less lengthy visits to friends and relatives in their native lands.

The figures obtained by the National Coal Association cover approximately one-third of the total number of foreign-born workers in bituminous fields. Out of a total of 165,760 such workers whose intentions were ascertained, 12,178 declared they would return to Europe. Those in ending to remain there numbered 5,135, those expecting to return again to America totaled 5,874, and sixty-three were uncertain as to whether they would come back or not.

Should the proportion thus ascertained hold good throughout the entire industry, of the estimated 300,000 foreign-born workers in bituminous fields, about 36,000 will return to Europe when trans-Atlantic transportation facilities return to normal, and of this number more than 18,000 would remain there permanently.

Generally, the men who said they would return to Europe permanently are all men who have a farm or house and their immediate family in the home country. These men have accumulated their savings and have been cut off from their home life for nearly five years. This situation particularly refers to the Slavs, Austrians and Germans, numbering not less than 100,000 of the foreign-born total. The men who propose to return temporarily to Europe are for the most part, men who are practically Americanized, but who are young and have relatives in Europe, about whom they wish to inquire. In some instances, these men have had property left them in their native lands, and the effect of war upon their country.

Foreigners who expressed no intention of returning to Europe are practically all married men with their families in this country. Their children are growing up as Americans. Some have no knowledge of their parents' homes in Europe and consequently are not interested in the situation there. The association made its canvass of the situation by states, based on incomplete figures, regarded, however, as indicating generally the trend of sentiment on the subject the results show:

From Pennsylvania returns were received covering more than half the total number of foreign-born. From thirteen to fourteen per cent of such workers expect to return to Europe and more than sixty per cent of those returning expect to remain there permanently.

Figures covering West Virginia are very incomplete, no returns having been received from a number of sections. Returns at hand, however, show that about eighteen per cent of the men reported expect to return to Europe and that about one-third of those returning expect to come back to the United States. This would mean a loss of twelve per cent of the total foreign-born, should the proportion hold true, that percentage representing the number intending to remain in Europe permanently.

Ohio, about fifteen per cent of the foreign-born expect to go back to Europe and about fifty-five per cent of those returning expect to stay there permanently. Oklahoma, very few foreign-born.

Alabama, very few foreign-born, intentions not ascertained; Arkansas, about three per cent of total foreign-born will return to Europe, of whom about one-fourth will remain permanently; Colorado, about thirteen per cent will return to Europe, all temporarily; Illinois, five per cent will return to Europe, four-fifths of them to stay permanently.

Indiana, the number of foreign-born workers reported was insignificant; Iowa, number of foreign-born, about fifteen per cent of total, intentions could not be ascertained; Kentucky, number of foreign-born insignificant; Maryland, while the total foreign-born constituted a very small percentage of the total number of employees, more than one-sixth of those covered by the survey said they would return to Europe, half of them permanently; Missouri, less than three per cent will return to Europe and less than one-third will remain there.

Montana, some of foreign-born expect to return to Europe; New Mexico, ten per cent of foreign-born will return to Europe, about three-fifths of the number remaining there.

Kansas, foreign-born workers very few in number; Tennessee, very few foreign-born workers, except in one section, where about one-sixth declared their intentions of returning to Europe, the great majority of whom expect to come back to America.

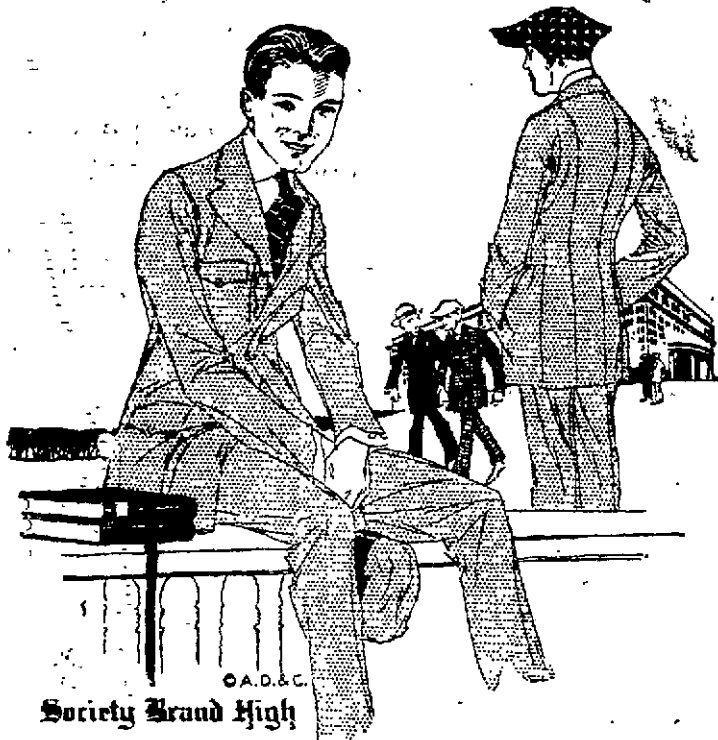

Utah, less than sixth of the workers are foreign-born. One-third of this number were included in the survey. Nearly two-thirds expected to return to Europe; about forty per cent of them expected to come back to America, thirty-five per cent expected to remain there permanently and the remainder were uncertain.
